

InFocus: Rethinking Tinnitus

Organized by HHTM and Akoio® Consulting

Save the Date! November 19-21, 2024

InFocus is a bi-annual symposium focused on cutting-edge ideas, trends, and applications in auditory health and the modern consumer landscape.

The InFocus: Rethinking Tinnitus Symposium brings together the leading voices in tinnitus care to inspire innovative discussion that are setting new standards for treatment and patient outcomes. This symposium isn't just another tinnitus event – it's a forward-thinking platform designed to foster meaningful dialogue and collaboration among top experts in the field.

Rethinking Tinnitus will equip clinicians, researchers, and the general public with tools and insights to help manage tinnitus immediately. With a diverse range of sessions focused on practical applications and breakthrough solutions, this event is shaping the future of tinnitus care, making it accessible to both healthcare professionals and the public.

Join us for this opportunity to engage, learn and make a lasting impact in the tinnitus community. More details coming soon.

Mark your calendar for this 3-day event
November 19-21, 2024

Day 1: Exploring the Depths:

Turn modern research and clinical approaches in tinnitus into patient care.

Day 2: Build a Tinnitus Tool Kit:

Learn about innovative products and solutions for tinnitus to help you and your community.

Day 3: Raising Awareness:

Discover tinnitus networks, collaborations and effective messaging.

